Description of Treatment Offered

Counseling (individual, family, or group) consists of discussions between the client(s) and the therapist that are designed to understand the client's immediate problems and symptoms and to develop a plan that will aid in resolving these problems. Counseling has potential benefits (e.g. improvement in identified problems, increase insight or understanding or increase skills to assist in coping) and potential risks (e.g. experiencing strong emotions, changes in ways of relating, or feeling worse before feeling better). Due to the variety of conditions that make therapy successful, no guarantees of outcomes can be made. Please discuss any concerns about treatment with your therapist. Your therapist may also suggest or recommend that you be seen for a psychiatric evaluation or psychological testing is the therapist believes this will improve your progress in therapy.

Appointments and Fees

Appointments are scheduled by each individual therapist for specific dates and times. You must provide at least 24 hours notice of cancellation or you will be billed for the full session fee. Insurance companies cannot be billed for late cancellations or missed appointments. Payment for the missed sessions is due at the rescheduled appointment unless other arrangements are made with your therapist. Your therapist will discuss any questions you may have regarding the fees for service during your first session. Payment in full, or the client's deductible or copayment, is due at the time of service (i.e. at each session). You are responsible to know your benefits. Please complete a check your benefits form so you are aware of your benefits. A $25.00 fee will be charged for any returned checks. An administrative fee of $25.00 will be applied to any past due accounts. Past due accounts will be sent to a recovery service and any fee incurred will be the client's responsibility. Should you desire for us to send a bill to your insurance company, you must complete and sign a credit guarantee form. There is a 3% processing fee for all credit card payments. Please discuss and questions or concerns with your therapist.

Confidentiality

You treatment is confidential within the limits prescribed by law. In general, no information will be released without your written consent. Relevant laws, however, require you therapist to contact others if you appear to be in danger to yourself or to someone else, if your therapist learns about child abuse/neglect, or if ordered by a court.

If you (client) are under 12 years of age, your therapist may discuss your treatment with your parent or legal guardian. If you are between 12 and 18 years of age, your therapist may discuss your case with you parent or legal guardian with your consent. If you are engaging in behavior that your therapist believes places you in danger of harming yourself or others your therapist will help you to discuss this with your parent or legal guardian.

Your therapist may consult or review you case with other therapists within The Art of Living Counseling Center to improve the quality of your treatment. Information may also be released to insurance companies or their agents (i.e. manage care) if you are using these benefits.
